Church Family and Friends,

Today is a very special morning. It was five months ago that we shut the church down due to the worldwide pandemic know as Covid 19. Today is the result of many hours of labor, prayer, and discussion by your church Board and your prayers for them. APCC is reopening. The protocols we will follow are really all about living our faith in community and being committed to that teaching of the New Testament in regard to the many “one another” verses that draw us to a commitment to love, care for, serve, protect, and pray for others. After all, isn’t that was Jesus called the first twelve to, and then all of who have followed? Commitment!

It is now time to look forward. To move the Great Commission of Matthew 28:18-20 forward. To build disciples by gathering for worship, growing in community, and going in mission. Everything we do in the weeks ahead may not look the same as the past, but we can keep the core values of APCC alive and growing as we pray for normal to return.

We must remember that God is sovereign and in control. He may be bringing revival, or perhaps we are getting near the time of Jesus’ return. If we focus on all the circumstances, that is all we will see. If we pray and look for how God is working in our world, and join him in that, we will be more of a church than we have ever been.

If you are at church this morning, doing Zoom, or listening on the website when the service gets posted; I am glad for your prayers, your patience, your hope, your belief, and your being here today.

Together we stand against the treachery of satan as he tries to weaken, malign, divide and destroy the chURch around the world.

“Lead on O King Eternal”

Pastor Jeff
